Besides his support of classical music, Mr. Goelet founded the International Atlantic Salmon Foundation, a conservation organization, in 1969. The foundation later forged ties with similar groups in Britain, Iceland and other European countries. When it merged with the Atlantic Salmon Association, it was renamed the Atlantic Salmon Federation. Mr. Goelet was the organization's president, chairman and treasurer. Its headquarters, the Francis Goelet Building in St. Andrews, New Brunswick, Canada, is named for him.

Hi Kathy: I bought a copy of the Scott/Garrison book on Saturday at the Center and have enjoyed it very much. So many names from the past, and small facts about Garry that I have long forgotten. Well done, and thanks. Hoagy
